Red Hat’s main website, www.redhat.com, is a mod_perl site (mainly Apache::ASP). Also, the Red Hat Network’s website, rhn.redhat.com, is pure mod_perl, using a custom templating system (which I’ll release one day, as soon as I find time). It’s actually a fairly complicated use of mod_perl for a web application, totalling around 60k lines of perl.
